Hongkong, August 11re. 1894. THE conestal of the Plague Proclamation for another month is an unwelcome but necessary measure. On the 1st inst. Chamber of Commerce addressed the Government on the subject, and the Colonia Secretary's reply was to the effect that His Excellency was most auxious in the interest of drawn'ns soon as possible, but was advised that no such withdrawal could take place at present. The matter had in the meantime of the Sanitary Board, who niged the necessity of extending the proclamation for another month, pointing out that unless it was renewed the Committee's powers would cease also that it would be neither honourable nor houest to declare the colony uninfected while as many as six or seven cases were occurring daily, and, further, that no foreign Government would take notice of such a declaration while the newspapers and . Consular reports showed that the disease still existed. There is no denying the soundness of the reasons advanced by the Committee. The disease being unfortunately still with us, it is essential that the powers of the Permanent Committee should be continued, and those powers are dependent upon the continuance of the Governor's there is something wrong with a law which requires a proclamation declaring the Colony infected with a dangerous epidemic as the basis for such powers as those conferred on the Permanent Committee. introduced into the Public Health Ordinance after the painful experience of the past few juen sufficient time to enable them some alteration with regard to the issue cerned, whether there was a proclamat on or other-had a narrow escapa. not: Quarantine has oden been declared against Hougkong when there has been no local cholera had occurred being deemed sufficient

However useless and abourd we may think the quarantine imposed at Singapore, there could be no justification for the Hongkong. Government in any war misleading the Singapore Government as to the true state of affairs existing in this Colony. The Hongkong Government might, howover, appropriately address the Secretary State asking that representations should be made to the Singapore Go. vernment with a view to the abolition for delivery on arrival of the Seeds. Then we have the experience of Macao, a place in daily communication with Hongkong and Canton, but which has been kept entirely free of the epidemic without recourse to quarantine. We observe also that one of our Tonkin contemporaries in urging a relaxation of the quarantine regulations in the ports of that colony uses as one of its arguments the fact that steamers from Hongkong call at Holhow and remain there twenty four hours, that no case of plague has occurred at Hoihow, and that the importance of quarantine in. Tonkin is proportionately lessened. How the plague is conveyed is a point on which we have no definite knowledge, but the fact that ports which do not impose quarantine and which are in close communication with infected areas remain as free from the disease as ports at a greater distance where quarantine is strictly enforced establishes a strong paima facie case that it is not to the enforcement of quarantine that the latter owe their immunity. The enforcement of quarantine at Singapore has inflicted serious loss on the trade of this Colony, and also to some extent on that of Singapore itself, and it is important that steps should be taken to prevent if possible similar less in any future epidemic that may unfortunately

An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at Daily Press Office Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service his Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of later ears been compelled to coin to express the numbrous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and inscience generally, which the rapid advance. of foreign relations has imposed upou them, are here given in extense. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Phinti pronunciations are given. the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography lisplays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of hody, thereby effecting a vust economy of made, achieving a clearness not previously [1:00 strained, and dispensing with those wash margins torized Chinese publications.

CHRONICLE AND TRECTOR CHINA, JAPAN, STRAITS, &c., &c. 1894,

With which is incorporated THE CHINA DIRECTORY. This is the THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL ISSUE. and will on found, as meral, to show an advance on precoding years both in fulness and accuracy finfarmation: The DIRECTORY covers the whole of the ports and cities of the Far East, from Penang to Vladivostock, in which Enropeans reside.

Not only is the Directory as full and complete in such case as it can be made, but each Colony, Port or Sattlement is preferred by a DESCRIP TION carefully revised each year, some of which will serve as accurate Guides for the Tourist, their History, Topography, &c., &c.
The Information afforded in these Descriptions alone would suffice to fill an ordinary volume, consisting of over Figury highly interesting articles, packed with facts concissly set out, and containing statistics of the TRADE of each Country and Port The work contains Directories and Descrip-
